T. G. Coleman Sentenced to One Hundred Days in the County Jail for Stealing a Watch From the Club Saloon.—Trial Held Before Judge Robins

T. G. Coleman, a well-known character about town, who poses as a respectable painter, was today sentenced to 100 days in the county jail for the theft of a watch from the Club saloon about ten days ago. Coleman pawned the watch to C. F. Green, a member of the Palace orchestra, and the same was recovered from the latter by Sheriff Lamb and the theft thus traced to Coleman. Green was the only witness besides the plaintiff at the trial this afternoon, and after he told how Coleman had pawned the watch to him the defendant was examined and he admitted at once that he had taken the watch. He claimed, also, that he was under the influence of liquor at the time and did not know that he had stolen the watch until the following morning and was afraid then to return it to his owner.

Judge Robins, believing that there were mitigating circumstances, did not impose the extreme penalty, which is six months, but sent him up for 100 days. Coleman had been ordered out of town just a few hours previous to his arrest by Constable Lavoy.

SURPRISE PARTY LAST EVENING

Katherine Muller Given a Delightful Surprise Party Last Evening By a Number of Her Young Friends—Evening Spent With Games.

Little Miss Katherine Muller was given a delightful surprise party last evening at her home by a large number of her young friends. The festivities were a complete surprise to the young lady and were therefore doubly delightful. Such games as are dear to the hearts of the younger generation of American citizens were indulged in extensively, and the merry laughter and pleased exclamations which floated out upon the street gave conclusive evidence of the perfect enjoyment of the evening.

At a critical moment during the progress of one of the games the lights went out and considerable excitement resulted and a few unfortunate errors occurred under cover of darkness. Barring this little digression everything passed off well and before adjourning the company partook copiously of the delightful refreshments served.

Returns From Quin River.

Dr. J. P. Mangon, who was called suddenly to Quin River crossing to attend Mrs. Morroe, who was in an extremely precarious condition, returned last night at 12 o'clock.

The doctor reports Mrs. Morroe to be very ill, but yet with a good chance of recovery. His stay at Quin River crossing had necessarily to be brief. He said several neighbors had come in to take care of Mrs. Morroe. Everything was done for the invalid to the convenience of the place in which she was stricken would admit of.

The intense itching characteristic of salt rheum and eczema is instantly allayed by applying Chamberlain's Salve. As a cure for skin disease this salve is unequalled. For sale by Eagle Drug and Jewelry Co.

Such order must be delivered to the postoffice authorities and kept on file.

NEW CAMP A GENUINE GOLDFIELD

As more reliable information from the scene of the recent gold discoveries of Messrs. Ellis and Jackson at Dyke, about eighty-five miles from Winnemucca, is received, it becomes evident that this strike is not one of the illusive kind, born in a day and fading out of significance before it has traveled into the outside world.

The rich rock from Dyke is not an occasional float, such as is scattered here and there over the vast mountain acres of the state, and such as the wily prospector, loving notoriety, will claim as samples of a great body of ore which he has discovered.

At Dyke the examination of ore deposits has been going on quietly and steadily for many months. The vein is true and can be traced for hundreds of yards.

The Silver State has received the most reliable information yet published in regard to the new discovery. It comes from an honest and a conservative source.

J. A. Mickel, who with his partner, George Turner, was one of the first to arrive at Dyke, and who has two locations on the main vein, comprising the third and fourth locations from the central location of Ellis and Jackson, arrived in Winnemucca yesterday and returned today. He was here to purchase mining supplies, and have some assaying done. He describes the mineral zone as follows:

"The main vein shows from one to two feet and can be traced very clearly for a distance of 200 yards. The seam from which the very rich ore was taken is from 6 inches to a foot in width. It is of a different color than the surrounding mineral footwall. This seam can be traced for a distance of seventy-five yards, all within the original Ellis and Jackson claim. At any point along this seam the free gold can be found. Long before the original locators had made their find public news, a townsite had been laid out. The nine men who are connected with the discovery and who are interested in claims and also in the townsite which was laid out sometime ago, are all from Sumpter, Oregon. They are: A. W. Ellis, Ernest Jackson, Johnson, Guy Bishop, J. A. Mickel, Geo. Turner, Lew Walker, Joe Jones.
